

Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery The Ohio State University

The Ohio State University College of Dentistry, Division of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery, Oral and Maxillofacial Pathology and Dental Anesthesiology is seeking an oral and maxillofacial surgeon, to join the full time faculty as an Assistant or Associate Professor clinical or tenure track, or a tenured Associate Professor in the Division of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery. For tenure appointment, candidates must demonstrate a sustained outstanding record in teaching and research.

The candidate must be board certified, or an active candidate for certification and must be eligible for licensure in Ohio. Responsibilities include pre-doctoral and resident teaching with emphasis in the area of oral and maxillofacial surgery resident education and participating in the school's intramural practice. The Division enjoys excellent working relationships with the Divisions of Orthodontics and Prosthodontics/Implants. Interdisciplinary treatment opportunities are widely available. The Ohio State University Hospital is a Level 1 Trauma Center and is an important referral site from throughout the State of Ohio.

The Ohio State University College of Dentistry is the third largest public dental school in the United States, and it is the only public dental school in Ohio. The college is divided into eight divisions or academic units. All major ADA-recognized dental specialties are represented. The primary area of responsibility of this faculty position will be contributing to the didactic and clinical instruction in the Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery program. As a dental school committed to the profession, faculty in the division are engaged in externally-funded basic and clinical research.

This opportunity will become available June 30, 2012. Evaluation of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Salary and academic rank are commensurate with qualifications. To build a diverse workforce, The Ohio State University encourages applications from individuals with disabilities, minorities, veterans and women. The Ohio State University is an AA/EEO employer. For more information about the college, the division and this position, visit <http://www.dent.osu.edu>.

Applicants should provide a personal statement delineating qualifications and career goals, and will submit a curriculum vitae with three letters of recommendation. Application materials or inquires should be sent electronically to Dr. Peter Larsen, Chair at Larsen.5@osu.edu.